For all food retailers, food safety is a non-negotiable requirement. Continuous monitoring with CCP ensures you are informed of any temperature breach as soon as it occurs. You can rest easy knowing that if there is a problem, you will know about it. No more food wastage due to equipment failure!

Understanding refrigeration system performance is also critical in today's operating environment. Keeping refrigeration energy and maintenance costs down helps the bottom line. CCP's advanced business intelligence platform continuously analyses data to provide you with the insights required to manage equipment effectively.

THE CCP TECHNOLOGIES MONITORING SOLUTION

- CCP's wireless Smart Tags may be placed directly inside the refrigeration cabinet – there is no need for expensive wiring.
- CCP Smart Tags continuously sample and record critical control points (such as temperature and humidity) and transmit this data to a secure cloud-based platform where it is analysed and transformed into business intelligence. Dashboards and reports are available via web and mobile applications 24/7.
- The system is fully-configurable. Temperature thresholds and delays can be easily set to trigger instant notification of breaches on any smart device - so you can take immediate corrective action.
- Temperature records are fully automated and managed for you - HACCP reports can be retrieved 24/7.
- CCP's advanced analytics provide insights to empower your business to reduce energy consumption and minimise refrigeration maintenance costs.
- Smart Tags can deploy a range of communication technologies, such as WiFi, NB IoT and Sigfox to suit your connectivity requirements.
- CCP's platform integrates with other IoT solutions and systems, including POS and ERP applications to provide maximum flexibility and versatility.
